

Boston Godfrey Hotel Enhances Guest Experience While Reducing Carbon Footprint with InnSpire Charging Devices

Boston, MA (2018-06-04) InnSpire is pleased to announce the recent implementation of one of its most recent technological innovations at the prestigious Boston Godfrey Hotel. Renowned for its award-winning solutions for hotels, InnSpire products are designed to enhance guest experiences and at the same time help hotels provide better entertainment while driving more sales.

The beautiful Godfrey Hotel, located at the aptly named Downtown Crossing in Boston, is a luxury boutique hotel offering upscale accommodations and personalized service. Hotel General Manager Larry Casillo is a big fan of innovation that drives an improved guest experience, which is why the Godfrey choose to partner with InnSpire. The InnSpire Wireless Qi Charger conveniently allows guests to charge their own compatible device by just placing it on the pad. The remote control charges wirelessly, completely eliminating the need for batteries.

“The Godfrey Hotel was actually the first hotel in Boston to offer InnSpire's “Guest Streaming” technology,” says Casillo. “Now we are delighted to also offer InnSpire's Qi charging devices, which allows our guests to charge their own devices wirelessly. We see this as another favorable step forward in helping our guests feel right at home!”

Easily plugged into a wall socket or USB cord, and conveniently placed on a bedside table or desk, this innovative solution is sure to prove itself invaluable to hotel guests.

?The sheer convenience of the Qi Charger is something that hotel guests will truly appreciate,? says InnSpire CEO Martin Chevalley. ?Plus, with no need for batteries, it results in labor saving and a lower carbon footprint. It ultimately means thousands of saved batteries and less waste, which is a huge benefit for the environment.?
